Kitchen & Kettle

Kitchen Planner Bundle

Five practical templates for running a kitchen that holds up under real life.

How this works

Print these templates and fill them out by hand. Keep them on the fridge, in a binder, or wherever you actually look. Reprint as often as you need.

TIPS

- Use Print / Save PDF to print blank copies or save a filled copy.
- Fill out once a week — about 20 minutes. The payoff is not standing in front of the fridge at 5:30pm with no plan.

THE FIVE TOOLS

1. Weekly Meal Planner — Decide what to eat.
2. Grocery List — Shop from the plan.
3. Pantry Inventory — Know what you have.
4. Freezer Inventory — Know what's in there.
5. Weekly Prep Checklist — The few things that make the week smoother.

Keep this open while you cook. Add items when you freeze them. Cross off when you use them.

The person who prepped three things and actually used them had a better week than the person who prepped ten and burned out.

A note on systems

This bundle is a tool, not a standard. Use what helps. Ignore what doesn't. The goal is to reduce the number of decisions you make when you're tired, hungry, and standing in front of an open fridge at the end of a long day.
